ENGLISH VILLAGE

English Village is an annual event where international students studying at universities mainly in Hyogo Prefecture interact with junior high and high school students.

This year's theme is to have university students give presentations in English about "My University," while creating an interactive environment where junior high and high school students can experience real, spoken English and learn about university life firsthand.

Junior high and high school students are full of dreams about what kind of university they will attend in the future and what kind of university students they want to become.

By interacting with university students who are currently experiencing campus life, as well as international students who have come from abroad to study in Japan, they can gain a deeper understanding of university life. During the networking session, please share about your home country and feel free to chat with junior high and high school students.

At English Village, junior high and high school students will challenge themselves to use English throughout the event. Of course, some students may not feel confident in English.

Please support their efforts to communicate in English by working together with Japanese university students.

The difficulty of speaking a foreign language is something we all share.

Students from universities (international and Japanese students) will present. Details will be posted on the Consortium of Universities in Hyogo website once finalized.
